DROUTH MEANS LOSS TO TIDEWATER AREA

Drouth has stripped five Tidewater counties of more than $5,000,000 in returns from key cash crops during the ruinous month of June, according to estimates.

There have been exceptions — areas mysteriously spared from the protracted dry spell by localized showers — but generally the specter has cast its shadow over Norfolk, Princess Anne, Nansemond, Accomack and Northampton Counties equally. Some of the predictable heavy damage has been done to the Irish potato crop which is in full harvest.

A. Vernon Watts, associte Extension horticulturist for the Virginia Truck Experiment Station made the damage estimate. Farmers questioned about Watt's statement said the estimate seemed very sound.

Watts pointed out that the Irish potato crop is usually worth between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 in the five counties. He said that he believes returns on this crop have been cut in half so far. Many potato farmers were delayed in harvesting.

There was no word for support for those who maintain that the worst drouth damage has already been done. "As far as I'm concerned," said Watts, who travels about the counties extensively in his work, "the loss accelerates each day the drouth continues."

The crops included in the horticulturists estimate, in addition to potatoes, are snap beans, tomatoes, corn and tomatoes. Potatoes and tomatoes are the two major crops in the area listed.

Dr. W. H. Brittingham, of the truck station, backed Watts' estimate. "Whether the extent is the same I can't see how it would be as much as he said."

Watts could say nothing for growers who can afford to irrigate.

Four years have gone since you left us,
We still feel the loss and pain,

Up in Heaven we will meet again.

God gave us strength to bear it,
And courage to fight the blow;
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

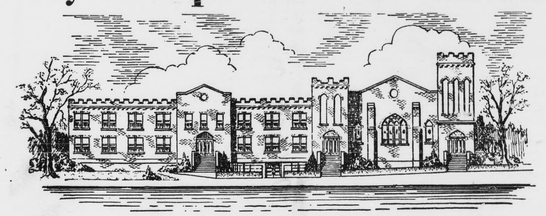
Liberty Accepts Bid for Church Addition



Architect's Drawing of New Liberty Baptist Church Addition

A contract has been awarded C. W. Hancock and Sons, of Lynchburg, to construct the Educational Building addition to the Liberty Baptist Church. According to W. E. Hancock, chairman of the building committee, the low bid was $55,100.00 for the 22-room left wing brick addition. The low plumbing and heating bid called for the expenditure of $9,135.00.

Ground breaking exercises have been set for Sunday, July 25, when the Rev. Lewis Bates, pastor of the Colonial Heights Baptist Church, Colonial Heights, Va., will be the Inspirational Speaker for the exercises. At the close pf the morning service, gifts will be presented by groups, organizations, and individuals to reach a goal for the day of $15,000.

The highlight of the day, following a picnic diner on the grounds, will be the Ground-Breaking ceremony. All members, former members and friends of Liberty Baptist are urged to be present.

In addition to Sunday School class rooms, the new wing includes an assembly room, recreational room with stage, a modern equipped kitchen and a nursery with kitchenette adjoining.

The bids were opened by the building committee Friday afternoon and presented to the church congregation at the 11 o'clock morning service Sunday. The congregation voted to accept the low bids.

Serving on the building committee with Mr. Hancock are Mrs. Jack Marshall, J. E. Jamerson, C. C. Poe, Mrs. Alfred Harwood, Jr., and Irving Bingham. J. Bryant Heard, of Danville, is the architect.

C. W. Hancock and Sons built the present church building at which time Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hancock were members of the church.

Liberty was founded in 1834 and will celebrate it's 120th anniversary on the day of the ground-breaking.

Total cost of the addition, including incidentals, furnishings and Architect fees is estimated at approximately $70,000.

Mr. Dewberry Transferred to Georgia Plant

Otis P. Dewberry, who has served as superintendent of compressor station no. 17 of the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line located here, has been transferred to Station. 12, Stockbridge, Ga., to assume a similar position. Mr. Dewberry will be replaced here by Joe G. Flerikem who held this same position at Stockbridge, near Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewberry moved to Appomattox in June, 1950, when work was first broken for the compressor station here. The station was built by Fish Construction Co., of Houston, Texas, and represents the expenditure of approximately one million dollars. The company built six modern homes within sight of and just above the station which are occupied by the families of part of the 27 employees of this station. This settlement is known as "Dewberry Hill."

Mr. and Mrs. Dewberry, who have been active in the civic, social and church life of this community, plan to leave next week for their new home.

DAVID CYRUS PLACED ON INACTIVE ROSTER

David "Bo-Bo" Cyrus, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cyrus of Spout Spring, has been placed on the voluntary retired list of the Shreveport Sports Baseball Club of the Texas League.

Cyrus, a pitching ace with a 13-11 record, is recovering from a bone spur operation of the right elbow. It is believed by the league president, Bonneau Peters, that Cyrus can return to action following a rest of several months. He appeared in the All-Star game of the Texas League in 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus returned this week from Shreveport, where they visited their son and his family.

Water Systems Demonstrated

Power suppliers of Virginia, water pump manufacturers and local water systems dealers, are cooperating with the State Board of Education and the Agricultural Education Department at VPI to make possible a statewide in-service training program for instructors of vocational agriculture on planning and installing farm water swstems.

The first two-day session in Southside Virginia will be held at Randolph Henry High School, Charlotte Court House, July 19-20. The first day of the meeting will be devoted to instruction and information pertinent to planning the farm water system. The second day of the program will consist of an actual design and installation of a water system on a local farm.

A representative of a pump manufacturer, Virginia Electric & Power Company, and Mecklenburg Electric Cooperative will constitute the instruction team at Charlotte Court House.

Sponsor Food Sale Saturday

The Hazel Moon and the Young Business Woman's circles of the Liberty WMU will sponsor a food sale this Saturday morning in front of the Appomattox Hardware Co.

Soil Staff Held Special Meeting

Soil Conservation Service personnel in the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District met in Appomattox last week. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss and clarify questions arising from the realignment of areas which took place July 1.

A. D. Williamson, area conservationist, from Rocky Mount and J. K. Abernathy, Staff Conservationist from Richmond, met with the group.

Under the July 1 realignment of Districts, the Robert E. Lee and Blue Ridge Soil Conservation Districts were placed in one area with headquarters at Rocky Mount. The Piedmont and Southside Districts were placed in one area with headquarters at Chase City. Mr. H. M. Collins was designated area conservationist at Chase City.

Area Conservationist Williamson stressed the point that under this realignment, Soil Conservation Service, technical assistance to farmers in this district would not be reduced in any way. Mr. Ed Dickerson, Appomattox County Conservationist, and Mr. John Goin, conservationist aide, will continue to serve farmers in Appomattox county. Mr. John L. Harrison, Campbell county conservationist and Mr. Robert S. Hankins, conservation aide will continue to serve farmers in Campbell county. Mr. Joe Terry, conservation aide, will remain in Appomattox to work on an accelerated vegetative program in the Falling River Watershed.

Present plans are that Mr. C. S. Booth, Area Engineer, will remain in Appomattox and assist both Districts in the more difficult engineering problems consisting of large dams, irrigation and other engineering problems.

Mr. Roger Norfleet, Soil Scientist, is also scheduled to remain in Appomattox, where he will assist in Soil Surveys and on watershed studies in other parts of the state.

UDC MEETS TONIGHT AT HOME OF MRS MORRIS

The Appomattox Chapter of the United Daughters of Confederacy will meet tonight with Mrs. J. D. Morris and Mrs. T. Hunter Dickerson at 8 p. m. Mrs. W. M. Morris will be co-hostess.

All members are urged to be present. Mrs. Kenneth Coleman will have charge of the program.

Mrs. Coleman will review an article from the Virginia Cavalcade Magazine entitled "Band" Joe Sweeney and His Banjo by W. Edwin Hemphill.

Questions Answered About Wheat Referendum

As the date of July 23 for the wheat referendum approaches, growers are asking many questions about the 1955 wheat program and marketing quotas according to C. C. Harvey of the County Agricultural Stabalization and Conservation Committee. Chairman Harvey gave a quick review of answers to some of the questions he is most frequently called upon to give.

The results of the referendum will determine whether or not marketing quotas, with penalties for overplanting acreage allotments, will be in effect for the 1955 crop. They will also determine the level of price support which will be available. These and other basic questions are being studied carefully by wheat growers.

Some have asked, "Who is eligible to vote?" The answer is, any farmer who would be subject to the quotas. Farms will be subject to the quotas if the w'-at-to be harvested for grain in 1955 is more than 15 acres.

"If quotas are in effect, what will be the penalty for failure to comply with acreage allotments?" The penalty on excess wheat will be at the rate of 45 percent of the May 1, 1955, parity price.

Another question is, "How does the referendum affect 1955 price supports?" The answer is: If two-thirds of the farmers who vote favor quotas, the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop will be available for producers who comply with their wheat and other acreage allotments. If lass than two-thirds favor quotas, price support will be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments. No price support is available for any producer who fails to comply with all acreage allotments for his farm, with or without the marketing quotas.

In answer to another frequently asked question, Chairman Harvey states briefly how the farm allotment is determined. First, the national acreage allotment is apportioned among the States, and then among the counties, according to the acreage seeded to wheat during the latest 10-year period, adjusted for recent planting trends and other factors. This year the national allotment is 55 million acres, the minimum level specified by law under present supply conditions. The total allotment for Virginia is 277,011 acres. Individual county allotments have already been released to county ASC offices, who are at present computing individual farm allotments. Generally these will be about 13 percent lower than the 1954 wheat allotments.

Farmers in doubt about their eligibility to vote in the referendum or who have any questions on the program, should see their county ASC office.
